An Afternoon with Paul Meyer

Former Executive Director of The Morris Arboretum, Philadelphia

Botanical Adventures in Kazakhstan From Recent Travels in the Altai Mountains Saturday, March 28, 2020 at 1:00 PM

Paul will present an illustrated lecture about his recent trip to the dramatic Altai Mountains in Kazakhstan, highlighting major tree species of the region as well as the rich diversity of steppe and alpine wildflowers. Join him as he travels way off the beaten path and experience a part of the world relatively unblemished by modern development.
